

CORRELATIONS BETWEEN THE LIKELIHOOD OF MALIGNANCY AND HISTOLOGICAL RESULTS ON SOLITARY PULMONARY NODULES

Dana ALEXANDRESCU*

Abstract: The solitary pulmonary nodules initially detected on chest radiograph represent a common clinical problem. The purpose of the study is to find the place of estimation the likelihood of malignancy in the clinician decision-making process and also to correlate with histological results.*

Key words: Solitary pulmonary nodules, likelihood of malignancy*

*Medicine Faculty Transilvania University of Brasov

