

ASPECTS THAT BRING ABOUT POSITIVE
ATTITUDES IN THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE – GERMAN – TEACHING
PROCESS.
DIDACTIC – METHODOLOGICAL
SUGGESTIONS THAT SHOULD LEAD TO A
PERSONAL, SUCCESSFUL ATTENDANCE
OF JOB – ORIENTED FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLASSES.

Daria STIUCA LEFCENCU<sup>1</sup>

Abstract: We are today's pupils and students who are prepared in yesterday's schools by last year's teachers with respect to tomorrow's problems.*

The present paper highlights some aspects that trigger affinity or repulsiveness towards a certain subject – in our case the German language, as a foreign language. Additionally, it tries to present some possible ways of preventing repulsiveness by describing some new basic methodological principles that bring about educational success in the process of teaching German.

Key words: educational problems, motivation, teaching process, methodological principles*

---

<sup>1</sup> Dept. of Foreign Languages, Transilvania University of Braşov.